

Furniture Row® Racing

Furniture Row is the owner and exclusive sponsor of Furniture Row Racing's car #78. In 2005, Furniture Row began its journey into NASCAR by participating in the Busch Series in addition to running a limited number of races in the elite NEXTEL Cup division.

In 2006, the team's focus shifted to the Cup Series. With veteran driver and motor sport personality Kenny Wallace behind the wheel of the #78, the program ran a full schedule and competed against powerhouse, multi-car teams. Despite the challenges, Furniture Row Racing achieved their goals for the season, while simultaneously impressing NASCAR, media and fans alike.

For 2007, NASCAR implemented some dramatic changes for the sport. In order to adjust to the evolving field, Furniture Row racing made some dynamic enhancements to their program in the off-season by adding key new hires, and purchasing additional new equipment.

2008 promises to be the Team's best season yet, with newly signed veteran driver Joe Nemechek behind the wheel and the unveiling of NASCAR's new Car of Tomorrow.
